Hong Kong Office

Pacific Prime was founded in Hong Kong in 2000 and our global head office still resides there today. Pacific Prime is one of largest, if not the largest, international private health insurance brokers to corporations, SME's and individuals in Hong Kong.

Our clients

In Hong Kong alone, Pacific Prime covers more than 30,000 people with international private health insurance plans from a wide range of insurers, based both locally and overseas. The requirements of our clients vary, and our success has been founded in developing bespoke solutions for each client depending on their needs. Pacific Prime sources the perfect solution from the global pool of insurance providers that we work with.

With our wide ranging experience and deep understanding of the local and international healthcare markets, Pacific Prime has become the advisor of choice for many large multinationals who manage their regional business through offices in Hong Kong. Our portfolio of clients includes many internationally recognized brands in the financial, consulting, legal, education, FMCG, and fashion sectors. We develop customized plans and services to cater to the array of unique health insurance requirements that our various corporate clients demand.

Working with you

Many of our Hong Kong-based clients are looking for regional insurance and employee benefit solutions, and we answer the call, delivering local service at their Asian head office. Additionally, Pacific Prime develops multinational, tiered benefit options from single or multiple insurers to deliver economies of scale while minimizing administration issues.

Our Hong Kong office has over one hundred highly trained professionals with extensive experience in helping clients with health insurance plan selection, administration, claims management, and much more. We go to great lengths to maintain our very high standards, and our training programs for staff are on the cutting edge of the international private health insurance industry.

Local solutions on a global scale

Private healthcare treatment in Hong Kong is amongst the best in the world, but also amongst the most expensive. Furthermore, Hong Kong currently has the highest rate of medical inflation globally. Our expertise in the healthcare sector allows us to work with our individual and corporate customers to develop ways to manage rising healthcare costs and keep inflation under control. Pacific Prime ensures that our customers have the best cover for their particular situation, and provides expert support and advice in times when our customers need it most.

Singapore Office

Pacific Prime opened its office in Singapore in 2006 in response to rising demand for international private medical insurance, and the rise of Singapore as a regional business hub. Since then, our Singapore office has grown into one of our strongest locations.

As a fully licensed insurance intermediary in Singapore, Pacific Prime offers the full range of insurance services, with a focus on health insurance for corporates and individuals. Our recently upgraded offices are conveniently situated in downtown Singapore, placing us in close proximity to the Central Business District, and easily within reach of our corporate and SME clients.

Insurance in Singapore

The Singaporean insurance market is very strictly regulated, which makes it much more difficult to enter the market. This has resulted in the development of a much smaller number of insurers than what might be found in comparable cities, such as Hong Kong, and means that it is crucial to find the right insurer and plan from the beginning. Pacific Prime is able to leverage our considerable experience and relationships with insurers in Singapore, and around the world, in order to advise our customers, ensuring the best available cover.

The public healthcare system in Singapore is also quite complicated, with different contributions, benefits and entitlements for each of the major public healthcare funds, Medisave and Medishield. Most companies and expats require our specialist advice to find their way around the system. As experienced professionals with a very clear understanding of the healthcare sector in Singapore, Pacific Prime is able to offer our clients expert advice on every aspect of public and private healthcare services.

As Singapore grows, so do we

Recently, the health insurance market has been expanding quickly, with new insurers such as Aetna, Now Health, Cigna and Bupa coming onshore and new demand created as corporations choose Singapore to become their regional head office in SE Asia. Pacific Prime has been instrumental in developing customized solutions incorporating multinational, tiered benefit options from one or more insurers to deliver economies of scale while minimizing administration issues in a compliant way.

China Office

Our China office currently forms the backbone of our admin and sales teams. We have over 100 highly trained, experienced advisors who can serve our customers in 18 different languages in this office.

Insurance in China

From our office in Shanghai, Pacific Prime supports a large base of corporates as well as individual expats and local nationals from all over China. This is a very specialized task, since the Chinese social healthcare system is one of the most complicated systems in the world. Providing supplemental health insurance cover for employees in this variable environment is very technical and requires expert advice to ensure all the legal requirements are met.

Healthcare in China

Public healthcare can be difficult to access for non-Chinese nationals. Cultural and language barriers make the experience difficult at very least, and exhausting and confusing in general. Public hospitals in larger cities such as Beijing, Shanghai, Shenzhen and Guangzhou have long waiting times and serious overcrowding problems. While availability and quality of medical services can be very low outside of the major urban centers.

Even though there is currently rapid expansion of private, western-style healthcare facilities, it is still generally difficult to access world class medical care in China, especially due to increasing demand from expats and local nationals alike. Therefore we strongly advise all our customers to ensure that emergency evacuation coverage is included in their health insurance.

The costs of treatment also vary considerably, with costs ranging from incredibly cheap to prohibitively expensive seemingly at random. Medical inflation is also a concern, with the costs of medical treatment in China rising at some of the highest rates globally.

Let us help you

Many large international insurers, such as Bupa, Cigna, AXA, Aetna and Allianz have been working on becoming onshore providers through local partners, but because of the difficult regulatory environment, there are concerns about the long term viability of some of these partnerships, and there have been many challenges faced by the international insurers to achieve consistent service delivery. Pacific Prime is one of the most experienced health insurance advisors in China. Due to our longstanding relationships with the world's top health insurers, we have unmatched insight into the health insurance market in China, and are able to provide our customers with the best advice and products to ensure uninterrupted access to world class medical services, all while receiving significant cost savings.

UAE Office

The Dubai* office is the latest addition to our global network. Our rapidly expanding presence in Dubai serves as a convenient base for our operations around the Middle East, Africa and Europe. Our new administrative offices are based in the prestigious Jumeirah Lake Towers, near the Dubai Marina.

A dynamic market

Dubai has a very large expat population, almost 80% of residents in Dubai. Many are young families attracted to Dubai by lucrative job offers and comfortable lifestyle. Until recently, it was common practice for employers in the region to offer only minimum health cover for their employees, usually not including the families. However, the Dubai Health Authority has initiated a program of legal reforms which will require expats to obtain private health insurance cover as a condition of stay in Dubai. These initiatives have caused a dramatic increase in the size of the private health insurance sector in Dubai, with many new insurers scrambling to enter the market.

Our growing presence in Dubai means we are perfectly positioned to provide world class service to our ever expanding list of corporate, SME and individual clients. The rapid growth has also resulted in a very dynamic healthcare sector, and strict regulation by the Dubai government means that it is very important for individuals and businesses to ensure they have locally compliant health insurance. As one of the most experienced health insurance brokerages in the world, our international expertise combined with local presence means we can design tailored solutions which meet the needs of our customers and the demands of local regulations both in the short and long term.

More than just health insurance

Pacific Prime is committed to more than just business as usual in Dubai and the rest of the Middle East. We have partnered with local media outlets for expats and families to provide them with helpful health and lifestyle information on a regular basis. Going forward, we are working hard to develop more of these kinds of valued partnerships in order to enrich the lives of expat and local families alike.

Strong IT and Customer Service

Our Customer Relationship Management (CRM) system is one of the most advanced in the global market. The software has been developed over the past decade to provide excellent client management capabilities to all departments working with clients – Client Management, Administration, Accounts, Claims, Renewals and Sales. This tightly integrated system enables huge gains in efficiency and this translates to unequalled service provided to our customers.

An integrated electronic filing system has largely eliminated the need for the vast amount of paperwork traditionally generated in the insurance industry. Our electronic records also make it very easy on our customers, with no need to resubmit documents we already have on file every time a renewal or claim needs to be processed.

Our advanced quotation system gives our staff the latest information pertaining to policies, premiums and claims procedures. The system is updated constantly, so our staff are able to generate accurate quotes very quickly, allowing us to provide customers with clear comparisons of the most up to date quotes available from more than 33 insurers. The system is capable of generating quotes for more than 50,000 plans and in excess of 10,000,000 possible combinations.
